DOCUMENT TYPE: Ordinance

RECOMMENDATION: That City Council approve amendments to the Salt Lake City Zoning Code to allow for the creation of a signage overlay district associated with the Eccles Theater and related development on the interior of that block.

BUDGET IMPACT: None.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION: Rebecca Delis, project manager on behalf of Utah Property Management Associates and Property Reserve Inc., is requesting to amend the text of the sign chapter of Salt Lake City's zoning code (21A.46) to allow for the creation of a signage overlay district on the block bounded by 100 South, State Street, 200 South, and Main Street. The intent is to allow for the installation of signage that would not otherwise be allowed on the block. This distinct and identifiable signage is intended to support the cultural and commercial development on that block.

This proposal aligns to the general purpose of the sign chapter by allowing for signs that are designed to evoke a specific sense of place and help generate the identity of this district. By allowing for unity and cohesion between the Eccles Theater and ancillary development, the proposed expanded sign vocabulary would support the creation of an identifiable place serving as an attraction to residents and non-residents alike. Furthermore, by ensuring ease of wayfinding to and through the entertainment and retail district, the overlay will support and protect both the public investment in the theater itself and private investment in the small-scale retail operations intended for Regent Street.

This overlay would be created under the provisions of 21A.46.130 “Localized Alternative Sign Overlay District”. The purpose of this section of code is as follows:

“Large scale land uses (such as a shopping center, an office park, a special purpose district use such as the airport, or large institutions such as universities or medical centers having a multibuilding campus) have common design elements that can be complemented and enhanced through the use of special signage. Localized alternative sign overlay districts allow for the creation of special sign regulations to meet the needs of these situations.”

The purpose statement specifically identifies using common design elements, enhances through special signage, to augment the special and identifiable places. This same type of signage overlay has been used to allow for identifiable and flexible signage packages at other significant cultural and civic institutions central to the urban landscape of downtown Salt Lake City, including the Vivint Home Area and on Library Square.

The emerging mixed-use entertainment and retail district on this block shares several characteristics with each of these locations in terms of mixing different land uses, accommodating large event-specific crowds, and allowing for a significant supply of parking.

Additional analysis of these factors and details of the project can be found in the attached staff report. (Attachment 3b)

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Salt Lake City Council is considering Petition PLNPCM2016-00246 – Regent Street Signage Overlay District. Rebecca Delis, project manager on behalf of Utah Property Management Associates and Property Reserve Inc., is requesting to amend the sign chapter of Salt Lake City's Zoning Code (21A.46) to allow for the creation of a signage overlay district on the block bounded by 100 South, State Street, 200 South, and Main Street.

These changes would allow for the installation of certain types of animated and oversized signage on this block. The intention is to allow for distinct and identifiable signage in support of the cultural and commercial development on that block. The overlay would apply on this block only. The properties are located within City Council District 4, represented by Derek Kitchen.

As part of their study, the City Council is holding an advertised public hearing to receive comments regarding the petition. During this hearing, anyone desiring to address the City Council concerning this issue will be given an opportunity to speak. The hearing will be held:

Zoning Text Amendment

PROPERTY ADDRESS: The block bound by State and Main Streets, Between 100 and 200 South Streets

PARCEL ID: N/A

MASTER PLAN: N/A

ZONING DISTRICT: D-1 (Central Business District)

REQUEST: Rebecca Delis, project manager on behalf of Utah Property Management Associates and Property Reserve Inc., is requesting to amend the text of 21A.46 to allow for the creation of a signage overlay district on the block bounded by 200 South, State Street, 100 South, and Main Street. The intent to allow for distinct and identifiable signage in support of the cultural and commercial development on that block. The overlay would apply on this block only.

RECOMMENDATION: Based on the analysis and findings of this report, it is the opinion of staff that the proposed text amendments meet standards for a zoning ordinance amendment and staff recommends that the Planning Commission forward a favorable recommendation to the City Council for petition PLNPCM2016-00246. Below is a proposed motion consistent with this recommendation:

Based on my analysis of the staff report and public comments presented, I move that the Planning Commission forward a positive recommendation to the City Council regarding petition PLNPCM2016-00246, text changes to amend section 21A.46.110 Sign Regulations of Downtown Districts, and associated provisions of 21A.46, to allow for the creation of a signage overlay district to support the cultural and commercial development on the block bounded by 200 South, State Street, 100 South, and Main Street.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

A request from Rebecca Delis, on behalf of Utah Property Management Associates and Property Reserve Inc. requesting to amend the text of 21A.46 to allow for the creation of a signage overlay district on the block bounded by 200 South, State Street, 100 South, and Main Street. The applicant hopes to use additional sized and types of signage to help create a cohesive thematic district uniting the new Eccles Theater and ancillary retail, lodging, and parking developments.

The subject parcel is in the D-1 (Central Business) district, and is governed by the general standards for signage applicable to that district.

The purposes of the sign chapter generally are as follow:

1. Eliminate potential hazards to motorists and pedestrians by requiring that signs are designed, constructed, installed and maintained in a manner that promotes the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of Salt Lake City;
2. Encourage signs which, by their good design, are integrated with and harmonious to the buildings and sites, including landscaping, which they occupy;
3. Encourage sign legibility through the elimination of excessive and confusing sign displays;
4. Preserve and improve the appearance of the city as a place in which to live and to work, and create an attraction to nonresidents to come to visit or trade;
5. Allow each individual business to clearly identify itself and the nature of its business in such a manner as to become the hallmark of the business which will create a distinctive appearance and also enhance the city's character;
6. Safeguard and enhance property values;
7. Protect public and private investment in buildings and open space; and
8. Permit on premises signs as provided by the specific zoning district sign regulations included in this chapter.

This proposal aligns to the general purpose of the sign chapter by allowing for signs that are designed to evoke a specific sense of place and help generate the identity of this district. By allowing for unity and cohesion between the Eccles Theater and ancillary development, the expanded sign vocabulary will support the creation of place that will serve as an attraction to residents and non-residents alike to visit and trade.

Furthermore, by ensuring ease of wayfinding to and through the entertainment and retail district, the overlay will support and protect both the public investment in the theater itself and private investment in the small scale retail operations intended for Regent Street.

This overlay would be created under the provisions of 21A.46.130 "Localized Alternative Sign Overlay District". The purpose of this section of code is as follows:

"Large scale land uses (such as a shopping center, an office park, a special purpose district use such as the airport, or large institutions such as universities or medical centers having a multibuilding campus) have common design elements that can be complemented and enhanced through the use of special signage. Localized alternative sign overlay districts allow for the creation of special sign regulations to meet the needs of these situations."

The purpose statement specifically identifies using common design elements, enhances through special signage, to augment the special and identifiable places. This same type of signage overlay has been used to allow for identifiable and flexible signage packages at other significant cultural and civic institutions central to the urban landscape of downtown Salt Lake City, including the Vivint Home Area and on Library Square.

The emerging mixed-use entertainment and retail district on this block shares several characteristics with each of these locations in terms of mixing different land uses, accommodating large event-specific crowds, and allowing for a significant supply of parking.

The proposal is designed to allow for discrete place-specific signage types as a strategy for creating an identifiable 'sense of place' connecting the new theater and ancillary uses such as restaurants, retail, lodging, and parking.

The proposed overlay district is located in the D-1 (Central Business District). The use of these Localized Alternative Sign Overlay Districts is, at present, limited to several specific uses in the "D" or zones. Those uses include arenas, stadiums, and convention centers. In order to allow the proposal to move forward this section would be amended to include "live performance theaters, and ancillary uses".

A review of the definitions of each of these land uses will show that they have much in common.

- Arena (from Merriam-Webster): "A building for sports and other forms of entertainment that has a large central area surrounded by seats."
- Stadium (from SLC Code): "A facility used or intended to be used primarily for spectator sports, entertainment events, expositions, and other public gatherings."
- Convention Center (from SLC Code): "A facility designed for conventions, conferences, seminars, product displays, recreation activities, and entertainment functions, along with accessory functions including temporary outdoor displays, and food and beverage preparation and service for on premises consumption."
- Theater, live performance (from SLC Code): "An establishment for musical, theatrical, dance or any other combination thereof, performed by one or more persons, whether or not they are compensated for the performance, in a privately owned premises that is open to the public, whether or not admission is charged."

As the definitions make clear, each of these uses is a large-scale place of public assemblage for the purposes of entertainment or information. They share the characteristic of having significant swings in occupation and utilization, and each requires the support of significant ancillary land uses (restaurants, hotels, retail, parking, etc.) in order to be successful and to generate the second-order effects in the local economy. In almost all cases, the principle land use represents a significant outlay of public resources that merits support and protection to ensure the success of the investment.

KEY ISSUES:

The section that would be changed in the zoning ordinance as part of the proposed amendment is 21A.46.110 “Sign Regulations for Downtown Districts”, along with associated elements of 21A.46 “Signs”. The issues listed below have been identified through the analysis of the project.

1. Potential for placement of unintended sign types along the public way

To allow flexibility for future development on the block the overlay has been defined as being bound by the exterior streets of the block (100 South, 200 South, Main, and State). However, the place-based signage strategy is intended to apply to the new developments interior to the block.

The overlay has been drafted so that any sign types and dimensions that are not currently allowed in the D-1 district are restricted to streets interior to the block. This permits ease of definition for the overlay, while preventing unintended spill-over of types of signs onto main thoroughfares.

The one exception is the pole sign that is designed for the access ramp to the Regent Street parking structure, which opens onto 200 South. This is specifically identified in a way that should prevent other instances of the sign type that are at variance with those already permitted in the D-1 zone.

2. Opportunity for additional signage overlay districts in the future

By modifying the text of 21A.46.130 such that live performance theaters are a use that qualify to be considered for a Localized Sign Overlay District, the door would be opened to requests for overlays to support additional theater districts. First and foremost, as outlined in the project description and discussion, these uses are very similar in scale and function to those presently allowed to apply for a Localized Sign Overlay District.

Additionally, simply allowing the possibility of future applications does not, in and of itself, ensure the success of those petitions. Each Localized Sign Overlay District is addressed as a text amendment to the zoning code. Hence, any future applications would have to satisfy the same requirements as the present proposal. The burden remains on each applicant to make the case for the unique characteristics of an proposed overlay and the public benefits of any modification to the existing sign code.

NEXT STEPS:

The Planning Commission’s recommendation for these proposed zoning text amendments will be forwarded on to the City Council for their action.

The City Council is the decision-making body for zoning text amendments.

b. Projecting Building Signs: Projecting building signs are allowed for the following uses only:

Flags shall not interfere with street trees, light poles, utility lines, etc., and shall maintain a ten foot (10') clearance from the sidewalk. Corporate flags may be additionally anchored at the bottom with a cable, chain, rope or other nonrigid device, to prevent excessive movement. RE: Zoning Overlay for Block 70, Salt Lake City

Dear Anthony:

Thank you for your assistance with our request for the Zoning Text Amendment for a signage overlay on Block 70 in Salt Lake City, which consists of the block between State and Main Streets from 100 South to 200 South.

The renovation of Block 70 with the new Utah Performing Arts Center and upgrading of Regent Street revitalizes this area of downtown Salt Lake City and, in conjunction with the City's efforts, Property Reserve, Inc. is upgrading our properties on the east side of the street. As part of this, we are redesigning our signage, which we believe will not only help the public to find their way in this new environment, but will add to the ambiance of this new theater district.

We are intending the design of these signs to be reminiscent of the historic theaters of the area, creating a nostalgic experience. We are proposing oversized signs that will exceed the current signage limits and are therefore requesting an amendment to the ordinance. Enclosed are the details for the request and examples of historical signs that we intend to duplicate.

If you have any questions or need any additional information, please contact me at [REDACTED] or [REDACTED]

Sincerely,

DESIGN REFERENCE

On Regent should be a dynamic retail and theater district with a wide variety of lit projecting and wall signs constructed from a variety of materials such as neon, metal, or wood.

The On Regent district should not include any internally lit acrylic box-type signs.

The narrow nature of Regent Street limits visibility of traditional front facing signs; projecting signs offer greater visibility on narrow streets and therefore are more pedestrian-friendly.

ATTACHMENT C: ANALYSIS OF FACTORS

As per section 21A.50.050, a decision to amend the text of this title or the zoning map by general amendment is a matter committed to the legislative discretion of the city council and is not controlled by any one standard. In making a decision concerning a proposed text amendment, the City Council should consider the following:

Factor	Finding	Rationale
1. Whether a proposed text amendment is consistent with the purposes, goals, objectives, and policies of the city as stated through its various adopted planning documents;	The proposed amendment is consistent with the purposes, goals, objectives and policies of the city.	The creation of a Localized Alternative Sign Overlay District helps support significant public investment in a cultural resource while creating a retail environment along Regent Street conducive to the growth and success of small businesses. This would be directly in support of the following elements of Plan Salt Lake (2015). Chapter 1: Neighborhoods Guiding Principle: Neighborhoods that provide a safe environment, opportunity for social interaction, and the services needed for the well-being of the community therein. Initiative 7: Incorporate artistic elements and support cultural events on a neighborhood scale to reinforce neighborhood character and identity. Initiative 8: Encourage and support local businesses and neighborhood business districts. Initiative 9: Provide opportunities for and promotion of social interaction. Chapter 8: Beautiful City Guiding Principle: A beautiful city that is people focused. Initiative 7: Reinforce and preserve neighborhood and district character and a strong sense of place. Initiative 8: Promote increased connectivity through mid-block connections Chapter 10: Arts and Culture Guiding Principle: Vibrant, diverse, and accessible artistic and cultural resources that showcase the community's long standing commitment to a strong creative culture.

		Initiative 2: Promote and support Salt Lake City as a regional entertainment, artistic, and cultural center and destination Initiative 4: Ensure access to, and support for, a diversity of cultural facilities citywide. Chapter 12: Economy Guiding Principle: A balanced economy that produces quality jobs and fosters an innovative environment for commerce, entrepreneurial local business, and industry to thrive. Initiative 3: Support the growth of small businesses, entrepreneurship and neighborhood business nodes. The proposal is also supports the following goals from Salt Lake City's recently adopted Downtown Master Plan (2016). Principle: Vibrant and Active Goal 2: Create unique places for different age groups, interests, and needs within each downtown district that are active 7 days a week. Principle: Equity and Opportunity Goal 3: Open and convenient access to services and amenities – both public and private— for residents, visitors, and workers. Principle: Arts and Culture Goal 2: A distinctive, imageable and identifiable downtown with international appeal comprised of independently identifiable subdistricts. Principle: Beautiful Goal 5: Districts that are uniquely defined by their building character, street furniture, plantings, public art, and other elements.

2. Whether a proposed text amendment furthers the specific purpose statements of the zoning ordinance;	The proposed amendment furthers the specific purpose statements of the zoning ordinance.	The proposal is consistent with purpose statement of the zoning district which is: Large scale land uses (such as a shopping center, an office park, a special purpose district use such as the airport, or large institutions such as universities or medical centers having a multi-building campus) have common design elements that can be complemented and enhanced through the use of special signage. Localized alternative sign overlay districts allow for the creation of special sign regulations to meet the needs of these situations.” Staff feels that this is the type of clustered development centered on a central civic use that has been identified as a candidate in the purpose statement. Please see the Project Description for additional discussion of the concordance between the proposal and the pertinent purpose statement.
3. Whether a proposed text amendment is consistent with the purposes and provisions of any applicable overlay zoning districts which may impose additional standards;	The proposal is consistent with the purposes of overlay districts which might interact with D-1 zoning.	The types of overlay districts that interact with D-1 relate to the design of projects and the treatment of historic resources. Should the proposed overlay interact with additional overlay districts, the more stringent rules shall apply.
4. The extent to which a proposed text amendment implements best current, professional practices of urban planning and design.	The proposed amendment is in keeping with the best and current professional practices of urban planning and design.	The proposed text amendment adds creates an overlay which supports the creation of identifiable signage for a specific and thematically-related district. As addressed earlier in the staff report, this is a common strategy in urban placemaking. The proposal will serve to support significant public investment in a cultural center while generating additional economic development opportunities for small businesses that choose to locate in the retail spaces associated with the theater. As a strategy for placemaking, theming, and economic development, this approach is in keeping with best and current professional practices of urban planning and design.
